Personal data and passwords are more and more frequent in our work and daily life: Shopping on line, using credit cards, home banking, data-base consultation, ect. As a safety measure, we need to use very complex passwords and codes. We tend to always use the same ones, because we fear to forget them or the place we wrote them down. And, what about codes that somebody else gave us?

I-Memo is the solution !

I-memo functioning is based on your fingerprint recognition It can recognize eight different fingerprints and memorize more than 2000 different sheets with codes, passwords and personal data
